

Published on Management Sciences for Health (<http://www.msh.org>)

Home > 66th Annual American Society of Tropical Medicine & Hygiene Meeting

November 5, 2017 - 12:00pm - November 9, 2017 - 1:30pm

Venue:

The Baltimore Convention Center, Baltimore, Maryland USA

Map Link ^[1]

Join us at the 66th Annual American Society of Tropical Medicine & Hygiene (ASTMH) Meeting ^[2] at the Baltimore Convention Center, November 5-9. MSH staff from the USAID Mikolo Madagascar project will join nearly 4,500 tropical medicine and global health professionals from around the world in a variety of symposia, workshops, and poster presentations to share our malaria experience and expertise, including David Collins, Aishling Thurow, Tom Hall, and Colin Gilmartin who will be presenting at the conference.

MONDAY NOVEMBER 6

12:00 PM - 1:45 PM

Poster presentation ^[3] – “A new approach to assuring the quality of community health services”

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7

12:00 PM-1:45 PM

Poster presentation ^[4] – “Near real-time community surveillance for malaria control in Madagascar”

10:15 AM -12:00 PM | Convention Center - Ballroom III (Level 400)

Symposium [5] – “Tracking the Impact of SMC: An Assessment of the Impact and Cost Effectiveness of Seasonal Malaria Chemoprevention in West and Central Africa,” which includes a presentation by David Collins on the "Cost-effectiveness of seasonal malaria chemoprevention in seven countries"

Source URL: <http://www.msh.org/news-events/events/66th-annual-american-society-of-tropical-medicine-hygiene-meeting>

Links:

[1] <http://www.bccenter.org/>

[2] <http://www.astmh.org/annual-meeting>

[3] <http://www.abstractsonline.com/pp8/#!/4395/presentation/3000>

[4] <http://www.abstractsonline.com/pp8/#!/4395/presentation/3667>

[5] <http://www.abstractsonline.com/pp8/#!/4395/session/142>